

will be considerably less, but some of them will stay on in the event of another outbreak. The entire Seventeenth is still on the field. Colonel Anderson himself is unable to say what will happen.

"The Governor may order us all away to-morrow," he said last night. "On the other hand we may be here a month longer."

The Martin-Brauer Case.

Up to a late hour last night no official record of the court of inquiry in the Brauer case had been submitted to Colonel Anderson, and hence no official statement is made. It is known, however, that Captain Martin-Brauer, who lost in the colors, reports yesterday were to the effect that he had been entirely vindicated. Colonel Anderson said he didn't know whether this report was correct or not since the record of the court had not yet been submitted.

There is a great longing on the part of the majority of the men to get down with the strike duty and go home again. It is decidedly a business proposition with many of them. Numbers of the enlisted men work by the day and are drawing no wages besides the $1 military fee, which is given in addition to the army dinner. It is pretty hard on some of them, and the fact that they have to stay here so much longer than they anticipated when they went out presents a serious and perplexing situation for them. Some of the officers are also suffering great inconvenience. Both officers and men have done well at the service while here, and the sacrifices they have made are appreciated by the citizens at large. It has been suggested that the State might do something for the men by granting them a cash bonus for their service, when they go, instead of discharging them outright. In which case the pay stops. This would give each man an extra $10, which would hardly in any case make up for the money he has lost in answering the call of the State, but which would nevertheless be appreciated as a token of the State's recognition of their services.

The Conditions Yesterday.

So far as could be ascertained last night the most serious occurrences of the day were the particularly successful attempt to wreck a Lakeside car in Barton Heights, and the attempted shooting of the Pickens line. Otherwise, apart from a few stones and torpedoes, everything was very quiet.

No very positive reports could be gotten from Barton Heights. It was stated, however, that at a point where the track curved, a fish plate had been stuck between the rails, or had been placed so that when the car came along it was derailed. It was about 9:30 o'clock when the thing happened, and the car was some time getting back on the track. The point where the accident occurred was near the Barton Heights' end of the high bridge, and the possibility this fact carried to the mind made many persons shudder. Quite a number of people were on the car, including some women and children. Nobody so far as could be ascertained, was hurt in any way.

About midnight reports were received from military headquarters that there had been some shooting in the city. The shots were heard in the city, but were taken at first to be torpedoes. A sergeant stationed at Oakwood reported to the military headquarters that he had seen two men, one of whom was armed, fired upon at Twenty-sixth and Q Streets. Nobody was hurt, so it was said. In other sections of the city things kept very quiet. A stone was thrown at a torpedo, causing a little stir, but there was nothing more serious than this. Manchester kept very quiet during the day. Seven times ran all right and so did the soldiers. The soldiers were taken away from Fairmount, and the train, so far as is known, reports that there had been some more stone-throwing on Venable Street were later found to be incorrect.

The Appearance of the Seven Alleged complicators before Justice John was one of the most interesting features of the day. The men were continued, and will come up again this morning, and will not be released. The plot was the subject of discussion throughout the city. The seven alleged complicators were arrested by the military. The arrest of these men has in fact done no little to injure the cause of the men, and has caused a belief that it marks the end of the strike. A sympathetic public is concerned. The great body of the strikers deplore the occurrence and Mr. Redford, who is in charge of the case, declares that he does not encourage or countenance any such thing as occurred in the city yesterday night. Many of the men believe that it was some mistake about Redford; that he was simply on his way home, and happened to be passing through the neighborhood at the time of the occurrence.

The Strike Itself.

At the rate it is progressing now the company, within the next week or ten days, will have all the cars in the service running on a regular schedule. It is an improvement on the situation just now, since it means that the hope of the strikers to get their jobs back will be gone when all these jobs are in the hands of the company. The men will need about 40 men under the new system. It now has over 200 and is getting on a most pleasant way. A batch of them signed up yesterday. At this rate a week or so more will see the last complete.

A new twelve-hour arrangement, to be made a permanent thing, has been adopted. There will be two straight shifts: 6 A. M. to 12 M., and another from 12 noon to 12 midnight, leaving a gap from 6 A. M. to noon. Two "winners" will alternate every day. The 6-hour gaps referred to. A flat rate of $2 per day for motormen and conductors on all lines has also been adopted. Instead of four men to a car as heretofore, there will now be only three and thus the force will be reduced one-fourth. The men are also to be paid by the car, but fewer men and more work for each man, but more money also, since the flat rate of $2 per day is to be paid to each man. The company will continue to pay in a round sum the same as before.

A statement made yesterday that the company is eminently satisfied with all things needs no alteration. The schedule of the new system is being worked out, and the most interesting proposition before the men now. Great things are expected from the meeting Saturday night. Many of the strikers are making up over the Fulton business. They deplore the arrest of Redford in particular, and believe that he was only

The Other Side.

Among the strikers, the chief event of interest was the meeting at the excursion to Dutch Gap. Many wagons went down Main Street filled with people. The attendance was quite large. A very pleasant evening was spent. Quite a number of the men remained in the city and gathered as usual at Sanger Hall. President Griggs was away and Mr. Orr presided. No special business of note was transacted; there were several addresses. The automobile scheme was perhaps the most interesting proposition before the men now. Great things are expected from the meeting Saturday night. Many of the strikers are making up over the Fulton business. They deplore the arrest of Redford in particular, and believe that he was only

Mr. Orr expresses himself as being satisfied with the situation. He knows nothing about the Fulton plot, and does not discuss it for publication. He says, however, as he has said all along, that he does not approve or countenance any such thing.

The Badge Question.

The question of badges and buttons is now one of paramount importance. The men declare that they will pay no attention to the notice; not a single button was turned in yesterday.

THE SOLOMON CASE

Judge Sims Expected at Henrico Court-house This Morning.

It is possible that the case of Sheriff Simon Solomon, of Henrico county, will come up to-day on the petition of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, asking for his removal.

As stated yesterday, the Governor has declined Judge Sims, of Loudoun county, to sit in the case, owing to the inability of Judge Wickham to act. While Judge Sims had not been called, Judge Wickham yesterday afternoon, it was understood around the Court-house that he will be on hand to-day.

The only thing which will be done to-day if the Judge comes will be to set the case for trial. Mr. Solomon will ask that the matter be gone into at this term of the court, and will further ask that the hearing be fixed for the 27th of the present month, by which time he will be back from Baltimore, where he will go shortly to attend the meeting of the Elks.

HURST BOURNE WON THE TEST HANDICAP

The Son of India Took Race Under Difficulties, Proving Great Superiority.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, July 16.—Hurst Bourne, with Odum in the saddle, won the "Test Handicap" at Brighton Beach to-day. The son of India had to be much helped in the race, but he proved himself to be a great winner.

While he was standing on the inner step of one car, he was struck by another, which came up from behind him, and he was badly cut, and there were many bruises about his body. He is receiving careful medical attention, and before very long will be able to be out again. At the hospital yesterday it was stated that he was getting along very nicely.

SOLDIER PAINFULLY HURT

Struck by Car Yesterday and Badly Injured—Condition Not Serious.

Private Laughon, of Lynchburg, is at the Virginia Hospital, where he sustained a painful injury in a street car accident in the city yesterday.

While he was standing on the inner step of one car, he was struck by another, which came up from behind him, and he was badly cut, and there were many bruises about his body. He is receiving careful medical attention, and before very long will be able to be out again. At the hospital yesterday it was stated that he was getting along very nicely.

How it Happened.

According to the results of the investigation made by the company, Private Laughon was standing at Twenty-ninth and Q Streets, waiting for a car to come along. When a car came along, he stepped on the inner step, and the car started moving.

After he finished his conversation he started to alight, and with a view to getting out of the car, he stepped on the inner step, and the car started moving.

When the car was half way under the railing, he was struck by the one going west as it passed. He was knocked on the running board and dragged and jolted along for a distance of about 100 feet, before he was picked up and put in the ambulance and later taken to the Virginia Hospital. He was treated by Dr. Gills, of Farmville, and Dr. McLean, of the company, and was made as comfortable as possible. His face was badly cut and scarred, and his condition was at no time serious. As stated above, he will probably be out inside of two weeks.

Private Laughon is a member of Company B, of Lynchburg. Captain Craighead is a young man of excellent habits. He is a Mason, a member of Marshall Lodge, No. 55, and is connected with a wholesale grocery establishment of Lynchburg.

SOLDIERS PLAY BALL.

Richmond Blues Defeat a Mixed Team of the Visitors.

A very interesting game of base-ball was played yesterday morning by the Richmond Light Infantry Blues against a picked team from the Montgomery Guard and Standard Rifles at Broad-Street Park. A large number of the soldiers witnessed the game. The teams were composed as follows:

Blues—Buck Archer, catcher; H. T. Miller, pitcher; Sam Dow, first base; Neddy Hendry, second base; Tom McEwen, third base; W. H. Miller, short stop; Billie Howard, right field; C. Lester, center field; W. Upshur, left field.

this morning the latter said the past night had been one of the worst he had experienced. He spoke of the oppression on his chest; the difficulty in breathing, and the uncontrollable restlessness, giving him, in fact, no peace in any position. Dr. Lippold said the Pope had called for him very often during the night, taking frequent restoratives, and especially meat broth, orangeade and tamarind waters. He felt better, however, after the celebration of mass, as though the communion had calmed him. In fact, the doctors proceeded with a thorough examination of his throat without fatiguing him too much. They found the liquid in the pharynx augmented, but not gathered in such quantity as to endanger the patient's life by producing pressure on the heart or through asphyxia.
